Federal Funds

Rural Community Development Initiative (RCDI) is a program funded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. RCDI provides matching funds to nonprofit organizations that provide financial and technical assistance to government entities or faith based and community organizations in rural communities in order to increase their ability to undertake projects related to housing, community facilities or community and economic development.

State Funds

Community Youth Services (CYS) is a program funded by the Illinois Department of Human Services. The purpose of CYS is to change social, cultural and environmental conditions which prevent youth and families from maximizing their potential and increase the possibility of youth to become involved in the juvenile justice or child welfare systems.

DCEO (Department of Commerce and Economic Development) provides grants to nonprofit organizations who make available capacity building assistance and training to small, rural communities working on a wide range of economic and community development initiatives designed to create and build strong communities
